

FORESTRY INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

CAREERS attracts, informs and engages high school youth to consider their future.

It has been proven that students engaged in an internship opportunity often increase their classroom grades, and are more prepared for success in post-secondary learning.

Internships develop skills from emerging young talent that have a high-level of interest and initiative.

CAREERS collaborates with Inside Education and Work Wild in the Forestry Futures Alliance to provide student and teacher awareness as well as forestry-related internship positions to high school students.

Through industry tours, camps, and internships, youth gain valuable insight into career opportunities in forestry—whether in traditional roles, the skilled trades, or Information and Communications Technologies. CAREERS delivers these awareness events and work experiences in collaboration with forestry industry partners, giving students access to meaningful mentorship and real-world learning. As a result, participants strengthen their employability skills and develop a clearer understanding of how forestry careers connect to post-secondary pathways.

CAREERS: The Next Generation Foundation is a student focused, industry-school-community partnership that provides awareness and experience. Youth are encouraged to engage in learning, stay in school and discover their career passion in skilled trades, technologies, and occupations in high demand.
